

Fig. 1. Çatalhöyük burial F.2232 is a headless young adult female (13162) with a fetal skeleton (13163; arrow) in the adult's abdominal region. The two individuals were the earliest in a sequence of interments in the east platform of Building 60, dating from the Late period occupation at Çatalhöyük. The missing cranium and mandible from the female were removed either prior to placement of the deceased in the grave pit or at some point following interment. Photographer: Jason Quinlin.
